Projects

Full-Stack MERN Application

- Architected and developed a full-stack web application utilizing the MERN stack (MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, Node.js) to build a robust, data-driven platform.
- Independently engineered a separate project focused on vanilla JavaScript, building complex, interactive web features and demonstrating strong DOM manipulation skills without relying on external libraries.

CARE FIRST

- Engineered a comprehensive healthcare management platform using the MERN stack to enhance patient engagement and data accessibility.
- Developed a responsive and intuitive user interface with React.js, enabling patients to seamlessly book appointments and securely access their medical records.
- Architected a robust RESTful API using Node.js and Express.js to manage patient data, handle appointment logic, and trigger automated health reminders.
- Leveraged MongoDB for a scalable and secure NoSQL database solution, ensuring the integrity and persistence of sensitive patient medical histories.
